

Yanis Tsorbatzoglou, Vice President for Administration

Yanis Tsorbatzoglou has been professionally active with Anatolia since 1995, first as an ACT Instructor while working for the Federation of Northern Greek Industries and since then in a variety of administrative positions, including Director of Global Education and Director of Institutional Advancement. In 2000, he undertook project management of a consortium led by ACT for the execution of the training component of the World Bank Trade and Transport Facilitation Program for the Southeast Europe region.

He has consulted for several international organizations, including the OSCE, World Bank, BSEC, Stability Pact, and has served since 2003 as SECIPRO Coordinator for the Southeast European Cooperative Initiative. In 2009, he was a Fellow for the Woodrow Wilson Center for International Scholars SEE Project. He holds a BA in Political Science from Knox College (US), an MA in International Relations from Tulane University (US), as well as an MA in European Political and Administrative Studies from the College of Europe (Belgium). He is a graduate of Anatolia High School, is married, and has a son and an infant daughter.